Opportunity for Public to be Heard

- Anthony Larrapino made comments on curriculum problems that the group should look into on the history of housing segregation in the US and how the government has contributed to it. Anthony wants to make sure children are taught what they need to know to be good citizens, not just get a job and suggested “The Color of Law” book and how this explains systemic racism. Anthony would like to know if VT is teaching students how housing laws have caused segregation. “The Color of Law” also comments on how housing segregation isn’t included in educational books for students. Wants the committee to focused on Government segregation if housing and works to integrate this and other resources into the school curriculum in the next year. Offered his help.
- Mike McRaith extended his gratitude for this group and they work that they have done and the work that they are aiming to do. Extended his collaboration for the group because he is a part of the VPA and there is overlap with the work being done and wants to have this groups work alien with the VPA. Mike’s email is mmcraith@vpaonline.org
- Ben Freeman offered his help with anything and provided his email bfreeman@vtlff.org
