Purpose	The purpose (and title) of the grant program should present a comprehensive view of what the program offers This section could also include facts that justify the need for the program. Proposed Purposes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Supporting working families</li> <li>• Providing enrichment and learning experiences</li> <li>• Building protective factors</li> <li>• Keeping children and youth healthy and safe</li> </ul>

Eligibility	This section determines what entities can apply for grants. A mixed delivery model allows a broad array of entities to apply for funding to expand afterschool access. Limiting eligibility to schools may exclude organizations with the capacity to apply for and manage grants such as YMCA's, 4-H, Boys and Girls Clubs and other community providers. Eligibility language can encourage school-community partnerships. Proposed Eligibility: Eligible entities include schools, districts, supervisory unions; community organizations; nonprofit organizations; private businesses; and licensed childcare centers.

Oversight Body	An oversight body can vary from a few agencies in coordination to an inclusive advisory committee made of parents, teachers, students, providers, and other stakeholders. It is important to specify how the members of the committee will be selected and to bring a variety of ideas, perspectives, and approaches to the table. Having an inclusive oversight body also helps with transparency and allows for the program to be adapted and modified over time by an informed and invested group as the needs in the state change. The oversight body should help inform the development of the application and grant-making process, the selection of funded programs, and the assessment of overall program outcomes at the state level.
Administration	Funding for administrative purposes is often written into the grant program at the state level. It is important that the grant program is administered by an agency that is familiar with the needs of children, youth, and families.
