
Personalized Learning Plans: A Learning Series for Vermont Educators

This free series is open to educators who are interested in creating or refining their personalized learning planning process, and will foster a deeper understanding of the critical elements of a Personalized Learning Plan (PLP) by 1) promoting the concept of a PLP as a cross-disciplinary tool that integrates evidence-based instructional practices; 2) aligning these practices to proficiencies; and 3) providing tools, resources, and examples for classroom teachers and administrators.

Series Goals

Participants will...

- Understand, explain, and apply effective practices of personalized learning and how they support PLPs;
- Build their instructional and assessment toolboxes centered around PLPs;
- Work collaboratively to give and receive feedback around common individual goals related to developing PLPs.

Dates and Agenda

All sessions will meet from 12:30 p.m. – 3:30 p.m. Topics and learning will be interconnected, so participants will be expected to attend all sessions, either in person or virtually.
